Waiting For Fruit | 20 July 2025

We are in a series where various church leaders preach on the ways they have witnessed God's Spirit at work in our church family. This week, brother Roger Hiew will exhort us on how he has seen God at work cultivating the soil of our hearts as we wait for fruit to appear.

We may not be a farming community, so we may not always appreciate how food comes to our tables or supermarkets. They don't just appear on the shelves overnight, nicely wrapped, packaged, and discounted. Vegetables take time to sprout, animals take time to reproduce and mature, and trees take years to grow before the first flowers appear.

What if the Christian life is more like a farm than a supermarket? What if it involves waiting, constant tender care, and even enduring fruitlessness while God works under the surface?
